Yoga Day Celebrations

- The Government of India declared Swami Vivekananda's birthday as the National Youth Day of India in 1985. This was primarily done to motivate the youth of India to follow in the footsteps of Swami Vivekananda and ultimately lead to the prosperity of the nation. Born in 1863, it is amazing how Swami Vivekananda serves as a consistent inspiration to lakhs of Indian youths even today.

In fact, one of the strongest messages he gave to the youth was, "What I want is muscles of iron and nerves of steel, inside which dwells a mind of the same material as that of which the thunderbolt is made."

- “Through practice comes Yoga, through Yoga comes Knowledge, through Knowledge comes Love and through Love comes the Bliss.”

– Swami Vivekananda. He has been the only one who has claimed that Yoga is scientific, rational and therefore, Universal. Through his constant study, he tasted spirituality as practised in India. His great emphasis was on 4 Yogas, namely: Bhakti, Karma, Jnana and Raja Yoga. Each of these is ultimately related to a way of attaining the ultimate goal of life – Mukti or Salvation. He said that to attain salvation, meticulous and sincere practice is required, which can come through Yoga. He said that Freedom of the Soul is the goal of all the Yogas and those who desire for liberation must do it.
